

Seth Binsted
Simon Critchley
Gerald Gargiulo
Krista Johansson
David Kilpatrick
Carlos Padron
Jeffrey Sacks
David Schweichler
Luke Trusso
Yunus Tuncel
Julie Von
Scott Von

Analytica and Nietzsche Circle present

Philosopher
as Analyst/Analyst as Philosopher

Jan 21, 2017
Saturday
4 to 8 pm

NPAP
40 W 13th, St,
NYC 10011

An Evening of Dialogue and Drinking to recreate the Greek Symposium in which the art of speech and thought is practiced within a certain ethic of the other

Information: info@analytica.org or ncinfo@nietzschecircle.com
Registration: www.analytica.org/events/PhilosopherAnalystAnalystPhilosopher

Philosopher as Analyst/Analyst as Philosopher

The Greek philosophers considered the art of their practice to produce a virile and preventive healing. Nietzsche sought to bring this "great health" back into the culture by means of the artist-philosopher who knows himself. In this sense he prefigured Freud's psycho-analysis as method. In this event we will recreate the Greek Symposium in which the art of speech and thought is practiced within a certain ethic of the other: speaking from the first person to the second person in the presence of the third person. We will each speak of a philosopher who has transformed us and the audience will be invited to the table. This will be a unique kind of case study - what Nietzsche called the "fortuitous case" of singularity in which each of us will speak of our own case of self-analysis with regards to a philosopher who by doing so himself enabled us to follow. Thus the collective of philosophers - lovers of wisdom and the wisdom of love - comes to fulfill a new kinship and future name of the father.

Guests

Seth Binsted is a philosopher and photographer working in media design and production, serving on the board of directors of the Nietzsche Circle.

Simon Critchley is Professor of Philosophy at the New School and the author of many books including The Book of Dead Philosophers and Suicide.

Gerald Gargiulo is a practicing psychoanalyst in NY, former President of NPAP, and author of Psyche, Self, and Soul and Quantum Psychoanalysis.

Krista Johansson is an awarded lecturer at the New School and Parsons and Managing Editor of The Agonist.

David Kilpatrick is Associate Professor of Philosophy and Literature at Mercy College, editor of The Agonist, and author of Writing with Blood.

Carlos Padron is a psychoanalyst in NY completing his PhD at NYU, a founder of Critica Latinoamericana and member of Psychoanalysis en el Barrio.

Jeffrey Sacks is a psychoanalyst, chief psychiatrist and supervisor at the White Institute, Assistant Professor at Mt Sinai, and member of the Paul Ricoeur Society.

David Schweichler is a psychoanalyst, philosopher, and pastoral counselor in NY and member of NPAP, Analytica, and Unbehagen.

Luke Trusso is an Adjunct Instructor at CUNY and NJCU and is completing his doctorate in philosophy at Duquesne.

Yunus Tuncel is Adjunct Professor at the New School, Founding Director of the Nietzsche Circle, Editor of The Agonist and author of Agon in Nietzsche and Toward a Genealogy of Spectacle.

Julie Von is a physician practicing psychoanalytic and psychosomatic medicine in NY, Associate Director of the New Clinic, and member of Analytica psychoanalytic school.

Scott Von is a psychoanalyst and physician in NY, Director of the New Clinic for Integral Medicine & Psychiatry and Analytica, and a poet and artist performing and exhibiting internationally.